This remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an srtiele which seldom fails to realize the happiest effects that can be desired. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country ab unds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority ever every other medicine of its kind, is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtuse are known, the public no longer besitate what anti-tote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmenary organs, which are incident to cure climate.

Nothing has called louder for the earnest enquiry of medical men, than the alarming prevalence and fatality of consumptive complaints, nor has any one class of diseases had more of their investigation and care. But as yet no adequate remedy had been provided, on which the public could depend for pretection from attacks upon the respiratory organs, until the introduction of the CHERRY PECTORAL. This article is the product of a long laborious, and I believe, successful endeavor to furment the American people are new themselves prepared to indge, and, I appeal with confidence to their decision.
